

SUPPLEMENTARY HAMPSHIRE
BIBLIOGRAPHY.

By the REV. SUMNER WILSON, M.A.

Being a List of Hampshire Topography not included in the "Bibliotheca Hantoniensis."

The following selection from my own library has been deemed worthy of publication as a supplement in part of the very full list contained in Bibliotheca Hantoniensis,<sup>1</sup> and contains, I believe, only books, &c., published up to the date of the publication of that work in 1891. Such a selection is not very easy to make. Doubtless exception may be made to some works or tracts here given, as of small general or even local interest, but as these, from their very nature, are likely to be quickly forgotten it is well to record their existence. There are many other books, Acts of Parliament, Poll Books, Archæological, Controversial, and other tracts, which reflect more or less the thoughts, customs and opinions of the past, and may well find a place, as one may hope, in a second edition of the above-named useful work. Since 1891 many very valuable books have been published which, together with MSS. in public institutions and private libraries or muniment rooms, may well be indexed for the use and comfort of students of local history. It may be permitted perhaps for me to point out a few accessible MSS. which are perhaps not well known to those who would be much interested in their perusal. I quote from my own rough notes, which were intended for my own use, and which I am unable at the present moment to verify by reference to the originals. I believe them to be however substantially correct.

Suckling's MSS., Add. MSS., British Museum, contains many interesting notices of Hampshire Churches, with sketches, coats of arms, &c.

My list contains Herriard, Ellisfield, Basingstoke, Nateley, Sherborne St. John, Silchester, Old Basing, Alton, Scures, Bramley, Binsted (Hants), Chilton Candover, Church Oakley, Cliddesden, Hackwood House, Odiham Castle, Tunworth, Pamber Priory, Abp. Warham, Selborne, Sherfield, Stratfield Mortimer, Wield.

Madden's (Sir Fk.) MSS. contains many notes of the whole county, references to other sources of information in the British Museum and elsewhere, and especially full extracts and copies of deeds and charters connected with St. Mary Southwick from the muniment room of Mr. Thistlethwaite, which will be found of very great service to one who is interested in the early history of any parish formerly connected with that Priory.

The Journal of Mr. Skinner in many volumes, also in the B. Museum, contains numerous drawings of Hampshire antiquities. There is a very copious index in two volumes, and it is well worth more close study than I have been able to give it.

Mr. Luke Allen MS. in the same place is very valuable; and the Latham MSS. are also very interesting to those who seek information of Romsey History.

Of printed books, not in my collection, I will only add a note which may be of service.

Collectanea Topographica. Vols. VII. and VIII. contains church notes of Aldershot, Crondal, Farnborough, Long Sutton, Yateley, Bentley, Binsted (Hants), Dogmersfield, Elvetham, Eversley, South Warnboro', Froyle, Winchfield, Odiham, Basing, Cliddesden, Farley Wallop, Sherborne St. John [Signed C.E.L. (? Chs. Ed. Long)].

Articles from the Gentleman's Magazine I have not inserted in my selection as they have been lately republished in the volumes of Topographical articles taken from each county,<sup>1</sup> but as this reprint does not contain the engraving so often accompanying the articles in the magazine itself, it is manifest that the originals are still of very great interest.

The Anastatic Society, a publication in several volumes, contains many interesting sketches of Hampshire Antiquities with descriptions.

The above is, of course, only a very small indication of sources of information with regard to Hampshire Topography, but may be of some service to those interested in the subject.
